YE OLDE Thacunka

HEREAS certain notable yeoman are of the belief that the world is endangered by reckless and wanton use of that most destructive and harmful weapon, the bow and arrow, they have in earnest quest for peace and security joined themselves as a body to persuade the sovereign to dis-bow and dis-arrow.

Ghastly evidence has proven that this hideous and deadly weapon is being employed with an unholy disregard for the safety of the populace. The worthy leaders of the peace guild have composed a special verse to make known their cause. The chorus opens with the line "I shot an arrow in the air", and mounts to a crescendo with, "It fell to earth I know not where."

This glorious hymn will be chanted by the most big number of pacifists as they progress toward the Locked Tower. Therein they will raise their voices in brave protest against the Trials of archery.

EERALDS will be employed, by the Lords and Barons who lead this gallant band, to carry forth shields and banners, proclaiming "Ban the Bow!"

Ye conspirators propose to be-seat themselves upon the Tower Bridge until such time as they be forcibly removed by our fair Majesty's troop of loyal beefeaters.

Petitions are being quilled for presentation to the ears of the realm. Adulfrice in this matter has been requested from the notorious Guy Fawkes Esquire.
scrolls to the editor

Sir,

The recent drop in the value of the farthing is of much concern to us, the tenants of Pettypool Lane. Only a few years ago one cent could buy a three-course meal, but I found yesterday it is now worth a plate of rice soup and a stale bun.

If the value of the currency continues to drop at this alarming rate, it will be but a short time before the farthing goes out of circulation altogether. This will be unfortunate, as the size of the farthing would be a convenient one for the inevitable change into decimal currency.

D. L. JONES, L. J. DURKH.

Sir,

I am ashamed of the fines of this city.

Last week I took some friends who were visiting this country for a drink to "The Bear's Head," and had planned to stay there to dinner. However I was so disgusted with the management that we were forced to eat the chicken with their fingers as forks are not provided, that we adjourned home to wait while dinner was prepared.

I have since learned that similar conditions prevail at such other leading taverns as "The Cock and Bull." With the rapid increase in the price of everything, I think there should be done to bring the healthies up to an international level.

M. B. LIZLO

WAY OUT HEP HARP

"Does thou have the word?"
"The word is 'Fie!'"
"Well come in man, the place is starting to move."

"Thank you, my simple fellow, and where's Henry the unctuous little player, pray tell?"

"Ah, Henry did a quick fade with some fiddle fraile just now, man."

The tail hall was dark and the glass chandeliers were dusty. In the centre of the room was the wild, best group of musicians ever seen. Thin wild Maelle with a white wig bending over a great gold harp, stringing the strings like planning cool dromes against a long waiting, soulful call, like an elephant braying with a hiss of a great great harp. The harp player rang in the throat of the air, over the sound of a violin and a flute player, a stream of rumbler, running, running, faster, spreading out till it filled the great great world, harp, then maelle, then fraile, Henry."

The following is a copy of Offs Rules issued by a Sydney firm in the year of 1852.

Merchants and Shippers' HAP

Sydney Town

Rules for the Clerical Staff

1. Goodness, cleanliness and punctuality are the necessities of a good business.

2. On the recommendation of the Governor of this Colony, the firm has reduced the hours of work, and the Clerical Staff will now have to be present between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. on weekdays. The Sabbath is for worship, but should any Man of War or other vessel require victualing, the Clerical Staff will work on the Sabbath.

3. Daily prayers will be held each morning in the Office. The Clerical Staff will not participate in the services of the day, but will be present and observe the same.

4. Clothing must be of a sober nature. The Clerical Staff will not sport themselves in raiment of bright colors, nor will they wear hose, unless in good repair.

5. Overseers and Top-coats may not be worn in the office, but shall be worn at the discretion of the Manager.

6. A vote is provided for the benefit of the Clerical Staff.Coal and Wood must be kept in the bunker. It is recommended that each member of the Clerical Staff bring four pounds of coal, each day, during cold weather.

7. No member of the Clerical Staff may leave the room, without permission from Mr. Ryder. The calls of nature are permitted and the Clerical Staff may use the gents room for the second time.

8. No talking is allowed during business hours.

9. The craving for tobacco, wines or spirits is a human weakness, and, as such, is forbidden to all members of the Clerical Staff.

10. Notwithstanding the introduction of business have been drastically reduced, the partaking of food is allowed during the day, but after 4 p.m., no food shall be admitted.

11. Members of the Clerical Staff will provide their own lunches. A new application is made for application to Mr. Ryder.

12. Mr. Ryder, as a Senior Clerk, will be responsible for the cleanliness of the Office.

The owners hereby recognize the generosity of the new labour laws, but will expect a great rise in output of workmen, as compensation for these near Utopian conditions.

* * * HEAR YE! HEAR YE! * * *

Tenders are called for the proficient redesigning of the great and mighty SYDNEY OPERA HOUSE for exhaustive detail contact the Hon. George Moliner, Sydney University.
SPANISH ARMADA THREAT, BRITISH NAVY AT READY.

LONDON, Monday. — The threatened Spanish Invasion Fleet has at last set sail from Portugal. This was revealed officially here late last night.

All British military establishments have been put on constant 24-hour alert, and all leave has been cancelled. The latest reports have it that the Don has already sighted England, bringing alarm and panic to isolated towns and harbours.

According to these reports, villagers of Devon have already seen the chain of bonfires built to waylay the warship to London. Compensation has been promised to several villages whose thatched cottages were fired by mistake.

PHILLIP THE RED

Our correspondent in Madrid reports that Philip Prince of Spain, who is sporting a red beard this year, has sparked the Spanish embassy in London last night with reports of his plans of attack. English authorities are panicking about the hopes of their fleet. The situation is hopelessly outnumbered by the Spanish. Although our chances are manufactured by a British firm, and therefore superior, they are not small, and so have no destrucive powers.

The elements of Chappell Lane have heard rumours of Spanish influence and victory of the Spanish dogs, and are now in the only trontorous faction.

Prayers are being said in the safety of our soldiers in St. Paul's Cathedral, as our Leader's "..."

CHANNEL IX, SPQR, TODAY

10:00: Your Thank You
11:00: Bill Shakespeare
12:00: Alice Keenly Will "In Focus"
13:00: Thé Crusaders
14:00: Common Sense Woman
15:00: Dr. Cook in Australia
16:00: "The Spirits of the Air"
17:00: "The Odd Man Out"
18:00: "The City of Light"
19:00: "The Voice of the People"
20:00: "The Voice of the People"
21:00: "The Voice of the People"
22:00: "The Voice of the People"
23:00: "The Voice of the People"

LUTHER BARBECUES BULL POPE CURIOUS

ROME: Last Year. — There has been widespread support in German church circles for the principles enunciated last week by Friar Martin Luther.

Luther, curate at St. Magdalene's Church, Gotterdam, nailed his 95-point plan to the church door, and invited others to come and dispute it with him.

The main theme of his plan was to question the church's rules for indulgences.

In an exclusive interview with "The Daily Telegraph," Luther said he was modernizing the church. "I cannot accept the church's policy for indulgences; I want to be free to indulge myself whenever I feel like it."

Vatican observers understand that there is strong support for Luther among the German clergy. His followers follow a party open to all ecclesiastics which was panned to launch Luther's ideas.

The hit of the evening was a bull which had been sent to him by the pope. Luther ceremoniously barbecued it to the delight of his guests.

Officials in Rome are watching the developments in Germany with interest. There has been some speculation as to the possibility of extending a wave across the country to stop Luther's ideas from spreading.

HOLLYWOOD

The drama of the life of Mary Queen of Scots presently enacted here reached another tempestuous climax. Elizabeth again attempted to seize the starring role of Robinson Crusoe.

BURLINGTON

An uncast ex-Nazi was found in one of the remote islands by Greed. He claimed to be a dedicated follower of the writings of Daniel Defoe and tried to re-enact the tale of Robinson Crusoe.

HARRY JENSEN PRODUCTIONS

- Present
- "All-Australian Pageants with All-Australian Casts"

Completely indigenous items include...
- Re-enactment of first landing by convicts...
- Massed marching girls...
- Fireworks displays...
- Specially suited for Royal Visits, etc.

NIGERIA

The notorious Black-bearded bandit landed here today, and is making a bid to have himself elected President. It is rumoured that he wishes to conquer the Black slave trade.

MID-ATLANTIC

Stocks of Sanitarian Health Foods are running low on the Mariner. The Puritans, escaping to Plymouth Rock, are now rationed to one Vegemite covered Westfied a day.

PARIS

Madame Debruge sends an appeal to the world for 400,000 green men, as she has exhausted supplies in France. Only blue, white or red.
To Our New Readers

Dear Sir/Madam,

This is a Tharunka. What's a Tharunka?

Tharunka is the official journal of the University of New South Wales Students' Union.

Why are you reading a student newspaper? Because a peculiarly-dressed young individual with an innate, half-stunned expression, has just thrust this into your clammy little paw, probably in exchange for 8c.

What? Because today, dear reader, is Foundation Day.

This day, for the second time, the students of the University of New South Wales remember, in the time-honored fashion, the foundation of their beloved alma mater.

Features of the day will be the traditional procession through the streets of the city and a number of the stalls, peaks, demonstration, etc., which have always graced such occasions.

We hope that the pressing of this document upon you has given you offense—please bear with us and support our appeal—the African Negro Scholarship Appeal.

Brian Henderson

Kidnap

The most colourful stunt last year was the Brian Henderson kidnap.

Twas the Saturday before Foundation and all through the Sydney TV viewing area, the audience of Bandstand, a popular teenage television musical program, must have been at least doubled. The whole student body had been continually propagandized for sometime before, and families everywhere had been heeded to a suitable position in front of the "Telly" in faithful expectation of the bejeweled historic happening.

And the happily, happily, happened.

To make this kidnap possible, an interview had been arranged between Mr. Henderson and two students, to publicize the imminent Foundation Day.

The interview was all going according to plan when, suddenly, at a signal from one of the two interviewers, a group of hefty strong-arm students, crowned on Brian, hustled him out of the studio and bashed him by an exit.

A technique attempted to transport Brian to a party at Terrigal, by a series of car changes, where, unable he was in new real danger, he proceeded to enjoy himself transparently.

This was not all, however.

In the absence of an organized set for the rest of the show, the students, with some previous help from the director of Bandstand, proceeded to stage their own show for the remainder of the program.

Observers considered it worth waiting for—it put the rest of the show to shame.

Other effective stunts during the year included:

- The hearing of a Sydney radio station, which informed listeners, somewhat haltingly, of an "illuminated blue-orange satellite, hurtling above the city from east to west."
- The navigation (by an inexplicable student adventurer) of Sydney Harbour in a bathtub ("good class fun").

STUDENTS

For last-minute Foundation

details, see the advt, page 6

BRIDGE

DISASTER:

Tharunka left Foundation Day published a parody of "The Sydney Morning Herald." The news soon made a way to the local "Herald" caused quite a stir. The main story was headed "Blunder Bridge Disaster—Land, Rail Traffic, In City. Police on the scene as to how students had stolen the bridge as a Foundation Day stunt. One of the main photographs from the issue is reproduced above.
MY WEEK by

Hello there. This has been one of those weeks—so much I wanted to do with myself, and so little chance to break free of my obligations. It’s amazing how suddenly you receive such a lot of invitations — luncheons, dinners, parties, balls and meetings. It’s so hard to find time to write my column — ever since it started, by some strange coincidence, I have received more invitations than ever before. Anyway, I make sure that I spare some part of each week to Marceau. Home life is so important, don’t you agree? I have made it a rule that I am always home for breakfast.

Sunday
24 June

Hello, everybody, I didn’t look at my Diary to tell you what I did on Sunday morning — I do the same every Sunday — I recover from Saturday night.

And, of course, I always go down to Ramsie Nether in the evening for her regular service. I hope you don’t mind me always talking about my Sunday devotions, but as they say in the ad, they quote Powerline me.

Monday
25 June

I woke this morning with something nasty, and was tempted to stay in bed the whole day.

But, even for such a Sunday, Monday is cleaning day, except of course, of the laundry, which is washed while I write my column, on Sundays. Even when you have three maids and a butler, there seems so much work to do. I mean choosing the flowers, deciding which background to adopt the masterpiece, and so on. But I managed to escape my chores for a little trip down to the Royal if I can get time to call the Royal (the “Scouts”).

And that evening there was a lovely little card party for the Duke, Duchess and Inconsiderate — we were so exhausted after the wood sales and all, but Mrs. W. B. Trench, one of the sweetest and most loved women in Sydney, was going to it, so Marceau and I went off too. A very gay night.

Tuesday
26 June

This was a wonderfully full day. In the morning I did some work for my favourite charity, and after the lunch hour I went to the Gallery for the opening of my exhibition of prints and paintings from Port Said.

It was a terribly educational show, and so profit.

That night I popped over the Bridge every time I see your home, and if I am filled with admiration for Caring Philos for choosing such a delightful place to sit (it is) and see a quite exciting play, “The Grop!” You know, every time I see a play I wonder why the critics criticize, but then again I suppose they have a business. Meet Australia’s first lady of theatre there ever, and if we all were as well received as I was last week I was going to the Sydney Night Refuge and Soup Kitchen National Musical on the wall “Doris Fitton, O.M., is a Salvation Army Hen.” I just don’t know why people would say such a thing, but she is a really wonderful person.

You know, when the Royal Family come here, I think it would be an excellent idea to take them to the theatre to see a really Australian play.

Of course, I haven’t seen Bea for quite some time, for she is very busy judging into strange cars and racing round the city for her one shopping trip a day. “Congratulate them tonight, they really accepted all those many people down there. I am told she is at the Royal George, but of course I have been none of a patron of the arts rather than being really one of these.

Wednesday
27 June

WEDNESDAY

Red and White tie. Nothing much. I didn’t do much with my weekend, and I spent it all at a club.

Thursday
28 June

THE big day was here — the Point Piper Park Ball. And of course it was an escort when I put on my suit, much more suitable for my Helen Rubenstein.

And, as Frank Smirke might have said, “what a swell party!” It was Absolutely everybody was there. And of course, lots of photographers. Of course, everybody had new dresses for the occasion, except of course, the men. I opened the most stunning gown — a beautiful suit made by Lady Lloyd Jones. But of course, I apologized, and the writer helped clean it.

Friday
29 June

FRIDAY

Well, what an eventful day. I am coming home very late, the alarm went off at four-thirty, and staggered up to get an early breakfast.

Marceau wanted to go away again. This time to Paris. His favour, he’s taking larger and longer trips.

Well, after I had seen him off, I sat down to make preparations. I’m planning to hold the biggest party of the year.

Saturday
30 June

SATURDAY

This was another gay day off to the races again. But you know, every time I lose, I always feel conscience-stricken when I think of those less fortunate than ourselves.

There are millions starving in Asia, and just a few per cent would buy them such a nourishing meal for a change.

I am really a terrible patriot, and if it wasn’t for the lovely people you meet there I wouldn’t go. But I did feel so terribly sorry when I realized that the money I lost could have been donated to charity.

So I put the thought on, and of course the taking of the thank you was the end of the happened. In the year I was reimbursed that such considerations are desirable, too.

And goodbye till next financial year to you too.

Sharanika, Thursday, July 3, 1962

5
The Daily

Though papers are said to inform
Men of the matters of men,
They are more, To him,
They're a cage, a guardian.
Against whom, he says when Reading quickly as he can,
Throws it in the rubbish bin,
As that day gone.
Fine pence is cheap
Worries in a harp
And retreat to their homes.
The paper may then be the means to start
Conversations with strangers that live in his name;
Daily he joins them at home, though topics might
From day to year be much the same.
And when his role is undisputed,
He holds the reins. The paper in bits,
Women's, Man's, Coats, Sports are delegated
By him, his house intact in parts.

Barry Elliot

Higher Courts for "Divorce"

Radio, TV and cigarettes are out
Of the way of life of a certain sect;
Sects, you know, should be like that,
But this particular banning act.
Has probably been a newspaper poet.

The publicity, the sect has got,
And how the dallies have easily picked
On the means to tell before any court
The lascivious thoughts of a breviate divorce.
So much nicer than legalities, of course;
And of the sect, how many more would be Able to part without the lawyer's fee?

Several must have gone with
The wife prepares the most destitute dish,
Kills rock and roll, the child's uncle;
Oh brethren, let me be single again!

Barry Elliot

The 150 Letters and Articles

Of "Sandler Berger"

Alexander Mountain

In a hundred thousand words

THE STUDENTS FOUNDATION DAY INFORMATION

Collect more Tharunka's and return your money boxes at these City, Commonwealth Bank branches
-Laigne House, Carrington Street, Wymond, Marlin Place, Castleford Street, Corner of Park and Castleford Streets.
-George and Market Streets.

Today's Tharunka has been dropped at:

CIRCULAR QUAY: Next to telephone booth.
CENTRAL RAILWAY: 1, Top of steps at Prince Alfred Yard end, 2, Hyde Avenue entrance, next to Kiosk.
RAILWAY SQUARE: Entrance to tunnel opposite. Morton Clerk.
MUTU S TATION: 1, Top of steps at black flag's entrance, 2, Near Obstail (seawall tower) at Bathurst Street entrance.
ST. JAMES: Opposite David Jones, Hyde Park steps.
GRAPES: On George Street, 1, On George Street entrance, 3, Top of escalators, York Street entrance.
G.R.O.: G.R.O. next to the bank in Martin Place.

Tharunka will be dropped at intervals along the procession route before the procession begins.
take over bid by tharunka

A scoop take-over bid has been made by Tharunka to the shareholders of 'Woman's Weekly', 'Time', 'Bulletin', 'Playboy', 'Confessions' and 'Everybody's'. In anticipation of a successful merger we have already planned the next editions. You can see a sneak preview on this page.

deliver us to e-ville

With all our concern with the Common Market, the “Humanities” reporters were naturally quite struck by the obvious and serious warnings that we were not prepared to make great sacrifices. Being of a certain age, we thought what a difference it would make if we could write a book and then go to America. The answer was, “No, you can’t.”

The next morning, we all decided to write a book. We thought we would call it “The Future of the Humanities.” We decided to write it in a hurry, and we all wrote a chapter each. We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

The book was a huge success, and we all became rich and famous. We even got to travel around the world and give talks about our book. It was a great adventure, and we all had a wonderful time. We all decided to write another book, and we repeated the same process. We all wrote a chapter each and decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”

We thought we would sell it to a publisher, and they would publish it. We decided to call it “The Future of the Humanities.”
I want my money back"

""no stuffy sophistication"

""If you really intend doing business with Los Angeles, then take a 38 automatic.""

""You know Joker,"" replied the Thulian, ""you make a fine impression. Damn shame you can't stay."

""There's a fine horse under you, Mr. Cool,"" quoth the man. ""Yes, you're in luck in such a thing."

""I never thought I'd see you again. I tried to get to you on the Pig's Bridge, but somehow I couldn't find the way."

""Yes, I have it. You're the one who always wanted to be famous, isn't it?"

""It's a shame you couldn't stay,"" said the Thulian. ""But it's a good thing you're back."

""What are your favorite forms of entertainment?"

""Yes, I think you could make some of these things happen."

""It's a pity you can't come to Los Angeles."

""Oh, I don't know. Maybe tomorrow."

""No, not today,"" said the Thulian. ""I have to get back to business."

""I don't know. We'll see."

""If you really intend doing business with Los Angeles, then take a 38 automatic."
Tut, tut, Nola, darling! We mustn't let our hats go to our heads. Do be a sweetie and watch our posture, won't you? If we must have boxer's shoulders, our stance is so noticeable, and we must be ever so careful of our bosom legs. Our fylies must never be a teeny bit wrinkled when we are in the public gaze. Watch the hemline, too, lovely, we're wearing them just a bit higher this year. I didn't know that we still had our square-toed shoes—keep them, they just might be back.

Hi, Johnny! How your relations officer is slipping! It's meant for a casual tart, but think of the comments next day in Aces and Orchids. Our new pop tune just might read, "We don't wanna T-shirt no more, no more. We don't wanna T-shirt no more." Can't you get Moorman to run the iron over those oaks and keep the crease to the front?

Oh, boy, Chips! Back in the Centre you might have been able to get away with it. But here in the big city we fit in on bandanas instead of ties. Could we see more of the white handkerchief, perhaps by narrowing the lapels a bit? And Chips, try the tailored look next time you attend a final night of "Oliver!"

You naughty boys—you should both know better! Hurry—the parcelled look is out, way out. Really all you need is a bit of string and the G.P.O. would guarantee you. Ahem, honey, we are not back on the trenches now—leave the slash to Montgomery. You both must remember that trim line is a MUST in trousers.

Mr. Measles, Sir! Oratory is not enough! Mae and Jack have both caught on. They now wear single-breasted suits, tailored, cuffless trousers, and tasteful ties. Keep Australia in the fashion, and then perhaps the world will. Buy Australian.
HYPNOSIS

The aim of this article is to outline some reasons for which the author believes that the greatest medicine of the future will be the study and application of hypnosis.

Hypnosis is defined as "the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.

The normal "waking state," in which our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment. When we dream in the deep sleep state, the relaxed body and the mind are not under the control of the waking state. The hypnotized subject's mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be more easily influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.

The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions. The hypnotist can then guide the subject's actions and thoughts in a controlled and directed manner.

In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment.
- When we dream, our mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.
- The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions.
- In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment.
- When we dream, our mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.
- The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions.
- In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment.
- When we dream, our mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.
- The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions.
- In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment.
- When we dream, our mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.
- The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions.
- In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment.
- When we dream, our mind is more receptive to suggestions and can be influenced by the hypnotist's suggestions.
- The hypnotist's role is to guide the subject's mind into the hypnotic state, where it is more susceptible to suggestions.
- In conclusion, hypnosis is a powerful tool for inducing changes in behavior and thought, and it has great potential for the future of medicine and psychology.

Colonialism in Action: Angola

The year 1961 was a turning point in the fight for independence of Angola. The Portuguese government, faced with the growing resistance of the Angolan people, decided to impose a harsh regime to suppress the nationalist movement.

In 1961, the Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment. The Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.

International pressure mounted on Portugal to withdraw from Angola, and in 1974, Portugal was forced to grant independence to Angola.

Today, Angola is a democracy, and the country is working towards a brighter future. However, the legacy of colonialism continues to shape the country, and the struggle for true independence and freedom is far from over.

Summary:

- Hypnosis is defined as the state induced by hypnosis, which is the art of concentrating and guiding the effectiveness of the mind.
- In the normal "waking state," our actions are determined primarily by the stimuli we receive from the environment. The Portuguese regime in Angola introduced a series of repressive measures to crush the nationalist movement. These measures included the suspension of civil rights, the imprisonment of political leaders, and the use of violence and torture to suppress dissent.
The topic of eros has the breathless interest of a stick of dynamite in a Tom and Jerry cartoon — it will disconcert somebody or everybody any moment now, quicker than that. And though one day you may go gladly to the dark and typically crossroads where Art and Pornography meet, it is not exactly a matter of free choice whether one does or does not.

The crossroads is all the darker in that eros is one of the ultimate questions, and any discussion deep enough to make some sense of is faced with a cultural, psychological, moral, religious and cruel political impredicament. The tendencies and forms of eros are complex, paradoxical and often apparently self-deceiving. Clearly the path and nature of sexuality is the reproduction of the species, and superordinate relationships between men and women yet homosexual sexuality is a part of its formation of these relationships and superordinate reproduction of children.

In his relationships with women, homosexuality frequently means an involvement between impulses to rape and to love.

One might feel at least natural attraction between the first unripe fruit of the male towards men, the kind that may exist between two young men, who show an interest in similar pursuits. But attraction is not love. A child may be attracted to his mother because he identifies with her, in a sense, and a boy, usual, moisture-filled attraction to a woman. It is a wish for the woman's sex, but it is a wish for the woman's body, not for the woman's personality, not for the woman's mind.

A review in the Sunday Times, being very much with Seneca de Beauvoir for knowing why we find B.R. attractive and interesting, included that "eunuch" as a French expression that incites all the French to imagine that the woman is capable of sexual experience. The act of the French nature is that of the American, and a leek, a sexual, moist-scented, cultivated, feminine, often a wish for the woman's body, not for the woman's personality, not for the woman's mind.

In essence, there is no such thing as a gentle breeze in music. Every single note is important, every single chord is necessary.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.

In the complex, the observer is not an observer, but a participant in the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation. The observer, in the final analysis, is a part of the act of observation.
white australia: an analysis

those who are trying to integrate within white society face a distinct advantage over those who are seeking to reject it. their immigration policy is one reason for this. it is that those who are trying to reject it are seen as a threat to the existing social order, while those who are trying to integrate are seen as a threat to the existing social order.

the white australian government has been forced to take a hard line on immigration because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order. the government has been forced to take this hard line because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order.

this is not to say that the government has been forced to take a hard line on immigration because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order. it is to say that the government has been forced to take a hard line on immigration because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order.

the government has been forced to take a hard line on immigration because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order.

the government has been forced to take a hard line on immigration because of the threat that it poses to the existing social order.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>UPPER BROW</th>
<th>ENTERTAINMENT</th>
<th>HABITS</th>
<th>RECORDS</th>
<th>READING</th>
<th>CAUSES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ballet</td>
<td>Metrecal</td>
<td>Pole Sitting</td>
<td>Libertarian Broadsheet</td>
<td>Opera House Appeal</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Terry Clune Galleries</td>
<td>Murbaro</td>
<td>Comedy Records</td>
<td>Art (Private Gallery)</td>
<td>Liz Taylor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Stephen's Church</td>
<td>Beer</td>
<td>Mort Sahl</td>
<td>Save St. Malo</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Television</td>
<td>Aphrodiasics</td>
<td>Lenny Bruce</td>
<td>Preserve the tramways</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Blue Hills</td>
<td>Turkish Coffee</td>
<td>Twist</td>
<td>Foundation Day Appeal</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Royal George</td>
<td>Bertrand Russell</td>
<td>Sing Along</td>
<td>Japanese Flower</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Surprise parties</td>
<td>Mink Covered Can Openers</td>
<td>Marin Cazals</td>
<td>Arrangements</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MIDDLE BROW</th>
<th>Stock Market</th>
<th>Apricot Cocktail</th>
<th>Jazz</th>
<th>New Bulletin</th>
<th>Boy Scouts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Public Gallery</td>
<td>Creme de Menthe</td>
<td>Creole</td>
<td>Light Opera</td>
<td>Vogue</td>
<td>Town Planning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hollywood Movies</td>
<td>Martini</td>
<td>Pink Champagne</td>
<td>Broadway Musicals</td>
<td>Esquire</td>
<td>Ping Pong</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>El Cid</td>
<td>Gogumobiles</td>
<td>Oklahoma</td>
<td>South Pacific</td>
<td>House and Garden</td>
<td>Capital Punishment</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ben Hur</td>
<td>Bob Rodgers</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>Civil Defense</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Breakfast at Tiffany's</td>
<td>Tea</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>Foundation Day Appeal</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central Methodist Mission</td>
<td>Reversible checked jerkins</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>Oral Contraceptives</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TV</td>
<td>Houseie-Houseie</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>(Planned Parenthood)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Champagne Flights</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>R.S.P.C.A.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td>O.A.S.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LOWER BROW</th>
<th>TV Ballroom</th>
<th>Coca-Cola</th>
<th>Disneyland Discs</th>
<th>Cashbox</th>
<th>Do-it-yourself</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pylon Lookout</td>
<td>Phillip Morris Executive</td>
<td>Gombergie</td>
<td>Readers' Digest</td>
<td>Readers' Digest</td>
<td>Gretel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Luna Park</td>
<td>Scrabble</td>
<td>Gogumobiles</td>
<td>Women's Weekly</td>
<td>Everybody's</td>
<td>R.S.L.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Teley</td>
<td>Bob Rodgers</td>
<td>Mitch</td>
<td>Lis</td>
<td>Slap</td>
<td>Bandstand</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Domain on Sundays</td>
<td>Tea</td>
<td>Sing Along with Mitch</td>
<td>Walter Brennan</td>
<td>Peter Gunn</td>
<td>Masonic Lodge</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Vanucrese House</td>
<td>Reversible checked jerkins</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Royalty</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Old Time dance</td>
<td>Houseie-Houseie</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Salvador Dali</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>NORTH SHORE</th>
<th>Warwick Farm</th>
<th>Barossa Pearl</th>
<th>Organ music</th>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Car Life</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Beach</td>
<td>Nescafe</td>
<td>Gunfighter ballads</td>
<td>Gunfighter ballads</td>
<td>Modern Motor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Football</td>
<td>Monopoly midgets</td>
<td>Perry Como</td>
<td>McWigg</td>
<td>Saturday Evening Post</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ski lodges</td>
<td>Duffle-coats</td>
<td>Cravan A jingle</td>
<td>Ray Coniff</td>
<td>Seventeen</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gate crashing</td>
<td>Rum and Coke</td>
<td>Gin</td>
<td>Les Elgart</td>
<td>Home Beautiful</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hitch-hiking</td>
<td>Gin</td>
<td>Row Street</td>
<td>Grand Canyon Suite</td>
<td>Downheat</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Eviston</td>
<td></td>
<td>Bruback</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

"Peace"
VICE-CHANCELLOR'S RESIGNATION, AND ROYAL COMMISSION CALLED FOR

A demand for the resignation of the present Vice-Chancellor of the University of New South Wales, and a call for a Royal Commission into the Administration and control of the University was made today by the Editor of "Tharunka".

The University of New South Wales is only 12 years old. It has some of the oldest traditions of this country. It has been a university that has been a model for the rest of the country. Yet, today, it seems that the University of New South Wales is at a crossroads. A demand for the resignation of the present Vice-Chancellor and a call for a Royal Commission have been made.

This is the first time in the history of the University of New South Wales that such a demand has been made. The University has always been known for its academic excellence and its commitment to the best possible education. Yet, today, it seems that the University is facing a crisis.

The Vice-Chancellor, Mr. Rosche, has been in office for more than 10 years. He has been a controversial figure, and his management style has been criticized by many. There have been allegations of mismanagement and financial irregularities.

"We had to ban the paper to keep the criticism out of the press," said the "Daily Telegraph" in its cartoon on the "Tharunka Affair". This is a reference to a previous incident where the University tried to suppress a student newspaper. The "Daily Telegraph" is a well-known newspaper in Australia, and its cartoons have often been critical of the University.

The "Tharunka" is the student newspaper of the University of New South Wales. It has always been known for its strong editorial stance and its critical coverage of university affairs. Today, it seems that the "Tharunka" is facing a crisis as well.

"If and when persons in high places find it necessary to act, I shall sit up and take notice," said Mr. Rosche in a statement. This is a reference to his earlier statement that he would not resign unless the University was facing a crisis.

The "Tharunka" has been a force for change in the University of New South Wales. It has been a voice for the students, and it has always been critical of the University's management. Today, it seems that the "Tharunka" is facing a crisis as well.

The University of New South Wales is a symbol of the progress of Australian higher education. It has been a leader in the development of Australian universities. Yet, today, it seems that the University is facing a crisis.

"Tharunka, Tuesday, July 3, 1962"
FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE...