Foundation Day Procession

To Be Slower, Police Agree

The Police have agreed for the Foundation Day Procession to move at only 5-8 m.p.h. this year. The leading floats and Police cars will be notified of this, and the Procession will be delayed.

Pre-Procession activities include a morning blood-drive on a much larger scale than last year, details will be announced later.

The longtime front pew attendee has been planed for by a group of students from Hacker College.

The students will attempt to make a speaker from Adelaide to Sydney via Melbourne. So far, the estimated distance is 1,200 miles, and each student will be paddling the distance for 50 miles at least.

The Mayor of Foundation Day was an effort by the students of Civil Engineering into the following section, the present is 24 hours, the record which the organizers felt, can easily be broken. Final details of this show will be available soon.

Any student who has an idea with plans should discuss it with the Foundation Day Director. Under this condition is completed with no protection could be given to students at all if they are arrested unless they are found guilty.

No student, the student is discussing with the Foundation Day director and you get arrested then it’s considered.

The 2. student’s charged with the theft of four court costs themselves. A solici- tion will be made if available required.

The Director of the Student Publications, Mr. Bob Walker.

Controversy Over Plan For
Alpha Collegiate Society

The University considers plans for the formation of an "Alpha Collegiate Society." The Society, modelled on the non-academic societies of the Old University, will be registered in accordance with the constitution "The purpose of such and students of the University of New South Wales of diverse interests, associated in their desire to preserve and promote the foundation of educational opportunities for students and senior members of the University through a community of scholars.

The society hopes to be able to provide some of the advantages of college life for students who are not in residence. Activities of the society will include:

- Work in their own time
- Tutoring
- Central supervision of all study

While the idea of such a society has not been as popular as might be expected, the actual methods of achieving this have been the subject of some controversy.

Dr. R.E. Docking, Head of the School of Philosophy, has made the following statement, in Tha runka: The alleged purpose of the Alpha Collegiate Society is to provide a social and cultural benefit for students by creating a community, where students can meet and discuss their ideas. The society aims to provide a friendly atmosphere where students can relax and have a choice of activities.

The society will also encourage participation in university activities, such as sports and academic competitions. It hopes to provide a valuable experience for students, and to strengthen their sense of community. The society will also provide a forum for students to express their views and ideas, and to participate in decision-making.

The society is open to all students, regardless of their academic background, and it aims to be inclusive and welcoming. It is hoped that the society will provide a unique opportunity for students to engage with each other and with the wider community.

"Please capitulate, could you give us a donation for Foundation Day?"

"Honi" Editors Reinstated But Resign Again

At a meeting last week of the Students' Representative Council of Sydney University, it was decided to reinstate the editors of the student paper "Honi," who had resigned.

The decision was made by the passing of a motion及 which was proposed by the students' President, Mr. Peter Giese and Mr. Richard Webb.

However, the editors, in a joint statement, said that their resignation did not represent the endorsement of the Students' Representative Council. Mr. Peter Giese and Mr. Richard Webb.

In a letter to the "Students' Representative Council, the editors said:

"Several members of the Council rejected the principle of the 'Honi' editors responsible role in the production of the paper, rather than attempting to evade it by asking the 'students' representative council to resign. It is clear that no editor resigns his or her job without the permission of the University, and the editors have done so many as much as to carry on in these circumstances."
pens

In Toil and Taste

Dear Sir,

After reaping Number 1 for the 2nd time in May, I should be ready to return my share of the tax, in the form of a 2nd time in December, and I should like to know what the situation is now with regard to the situation in the Irish Press?

I feel that the failure of the Press to publish the results of the election in a timely manner is a matter of great concern to the public, and I should like to know whether the situation is now improved.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Hark, Hark, The Hoot!

Sir,

Whitman and his friends were not the first to recognize the importance of the natural environment. The ancient Greeks, for example, believed that the natural world was a source of inspiration and wisdom. Their philosophy of nature was based on the idea that all things were interconnected and that the human being was part of the larger whole.

The philosophy of nature that Whitman and his friends espoused was one that emphasized the importance of the senses and the experience of nature. They believed that the senses were the key to understanding the world, and that by tapping into them, one could gain a deeper understanding of ourselves and our place in the world.

Over time, this philosophy of nature evolved into a broader concept of nature as a source of reverence and awe. This concept of nature as a spiritual force continues to inspire people today, and it is a concept that is reflected in the works of many modern writers and artists.

Thank you,

Mr. Carey

What's Wrong With The Roundhouse?

Sir,

I am writing to ask your opinion on the recent developments at the Roundhouse. As a long-time supporter of the Roundhouse, I have been concerned by the recent changes that have taken place.

I believe that the Roundhouse is an important institution, and that it should be preserved for future generations. I would be grateful if you could provide your thoughts on this matter.

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Plan For Campus Parking

Last Tuesday night, June 1, the new parking lot at the University was dedicated. The lot, which is located on the north side of campus, will alleviate some of the traffic problems that have plagued the University in recent months.

Said Alex Carey, School of Applied Psychology, "This is a necessary step in the ongoing effort to improve the campus environment." The new lot, which is 200 feet by 200 feet, will accommodate 200 cars.

In addition to the new lot, the University has also implemented a new parking permit system. The permits are available for purchase at the University's administration office.

Food Tech L

Lake Bourke

"Cesspit"

Do you think some approach could be made to the university authorities to bring about some changes for the betterment of the students and the campus environment?" asked Mr. Bourke.

"We have a continual problem with the demand for parking spaces," he said. "It is a major inconvenience for students and staff alike."

"I think it is important to address this issue," replied Mr. Carey. "We are currently exploring ways to increase the availability of parking spaces, and I believe that we will be able to make some improvements in the near future."
Revue Pregnant

The Revue is in Labour again! It is due to give birth to a new, pink show in the Theatre on 8 nights at the end of the term.

Revue of the late 1950s has been undergoing a revival of sorts over the past few years. It is a form of entertainment consisting of about thirty short skits and introductions to musical numbers and similar humorous pieces. Under this is the University, the Church, the Queen, the Philharmonic Society, and an annual gathering of students. The show will be at the Trafalgar Centre on Saturday, September 10th, at 8 p.m.

The show will include: The WILD ONE, a musical, which is set in a country chateau; an opera, with music by J. S. Bach; and the annual gathering of students.

The show will be presented by...
Devil take the hindmost

TRUCKS must be within the University before 8 a.m. or else will be excluded from the grounds. The conduct of bands will be supervised by the police. No trucks will be allowed to enter the procession.

As the processions leave the grounds, they will be excluded from the University. The police may need to be present to ensure the safety of the event.

Big on flavour

AFTER much deliberation, the decision has been made that the appeal will be held on this year's Foundation Day. The Foundation Day Appeal (Anas) will take place over 10 days.

One group which has been included in discussions is the National Union of Students (NUS). The appeal is being held on the 10th of the month, and it is expected that the appeal will be successful.

One way to make the finances successful is to sell tickets at cheaper prices. However, this is not an option for the Foundation Day Appeal.

SUCKERS WANTED

PROMOTIONAL ROUTE

This year's promotion will be held on 10 a.m., starting at the University. The route will be marked out above.

The Foundation Day Directors have arranged for a promotional Foundation Day advertising campaign to be conducted around the University. A total of 5,000 pamphlets will be distributed around the University.

These pamphlets will be distributed to local businesses and organizations, and they will be available for free to anyone who requests them.

The pamphlets will contain information about the Foundation Day Appeal and the benefits of supporting it. They will also include details of how to make a donation, and they will be distributed by volunteers who are trained to assist people.

The promotion will run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the 10th of the month. The promotion will be held on the University campus, and it will be open to the public.

The Foundation Day Appeal is a great opportunity to support the University and its students. Please consider making a donation, and thank you for your support.

Come Paste!

The following thanks, legiti-
Twaddle and etc.

The following are instructions received from the police and City Council, and are:

— Crackers.
— Football boots.

 subrange approximately the northern part of Hyde Park.

 Fence Foundation Day will be a big success if all students keep their

...and this place's special replica of the Sydney Harbour Bridge. Then there was writing proof of their exploit and to silk being

...and there were several sticks of wooden dynamite. Finally, the igniting fuse carried a smouldering match.

Field day for the Feds

This is the sort of letter by students received after their last Common day, and it makes hilarious reading.

Mummy, look what I found!

GENERAL:

There will be 400 competitors for two years' scavenger hunt. There will be sheets filled in proportion to the number of students in each school. This is to ensure that students from different schools will be divided by the number of sheets given. Each sheet is filled in with the answers based on the clues given.

DISTRIBUTION OF BOXES:

The Commissioner will, on common sense basis, fill their boxes at the tomato, onion, and vegetable section in the market. The boxes filled in by the students will be returned to their respective boxes.

START:

Starting time is 1 p.m. at Ma-

The puzzle will be solved with the help of the students. The prize will be 36 bottles of beer negotiated in the winning student's name.

FINISH:

The finishing points will be the

The students' Union office will have 36 bottles of beer negotiated in the winning student's name. There will be a prize of $50 by the school at the finishing point.

THE LAPE:

A new and revised list of boxes was prepared which should be posted in the same manner as last year's. This list was circulated among all the students and was distributed to the students by the Council meetings next week.

July 4, 1964—faced Sydney Harbour in a bathtub. You can't see it here, but half the Harbour Bridge is missing, removed by students. Thuranka scooped all the morning papers on this one.

up and place them in the 'Be Tidy' bin.

A number of students interfered with 'Be Tidy' bins and scattered the contents over the park. One student was made to pick up rotten vegetables in the park and feel the weight of a middle-aged woman on his back for an hour.

At another time thirty students had held up a long fence and with water dripping from the top and forcing tennis rackets and beer bottles were thrown over the fence and forcing tennis rackets and beer bottles were thrown over the fence.
Don't Be Without Your Car For The Day!
When tyre or battery needs arise, bring your vehicle into Uni and leave it with the KINGSFORD TYRE SERVICE for specialist attention. Then pick it up after lectures.

We are only 100 yards away and carry an extensive range of tyres (new, second-hand, and re-treads), BATTERIES and ACCESSORIES.

IN ADDITION:
- All goods are available on terms
- Tyre and battery fitting is done free of charge
- And Students are given special concessions

KINGSFORD TYRE SERVICE
390 Anzac Pde., Kingsford, Phone 663-3628

Bank of NSW beats Uni at Union
The University met the Bank of NS..W. side in what might be called a grudge match at Rothwell Park on Saturday and were defeated 18-6.

The Bank of NSW side started with a fine run up the forwards. The Bank full-back, after two attempts, was successful, and the Bank centre wing, R.T. Hall, sent it to P.C. Morgan, who took it to the five-meter line. Here R.T. Hall then kicked a penalty goal for the Bank, 1-0.

Soccer
The University Rugby Union team defeated the visitors by 23-6 in the first international game between the two teams.

The University side is composed of the following players: E.M. Hall, W.J. Hall, M.B. Hawtin, A.E. Hawtin, W.J. Hawtin, M.L. Hawtin, D.E. Hawtin, and A.J. Hawtin.

Intervarsity Athletics
On Saturday, May 19, a contingent of 19 members from the University of New South Wales Athletics Club flew into Sydney to compete in the annual University Athletic meeting held at the University of Sydney.

The team was under the leadership of Mr. J.H. Hawtin, who is one of the outstanding members of the club and a former captain of the University of Sydney Athletics Club.

The team consisted of the following members:
- Mr. J.H. Hawtin (captain)
- Mr. D.E. Hawtin
- Mr. M.L. Hawtin
- Mr. A.E. Hawtin
- Mr. W.J. Hall
- Mr. W.J. Hawtin
- Mr. M.B. Hawtin
- Mr. A.J. Hawtin
- Mr. E.M. Hall

The team was well received by the University of Sydney Athletics Club and was given a warm welcome.

The team performed well in all events and was able to win several medals.

Fencing club neglected

It is painfully obvious that the majority of the student body is unaware of the existence of the University of Sydney Fencing Club.

The club meets on Wednesday nights from 8-10 p.m. in the small room on the second floor of the University Union.

The club is sponsored by the University of Sydney Fencing Association and is open to all students.

The club is directed by Mr. John Hawtin, who is a former member of the University of Sydney Fencing Club.

The club has a small but dedicated membership and meets regularly to practice and improve fencing skills.

The club is open to all students and is an excellent way to get involved in a club and make new friends.

Bassett takes the Arts
In the opening round of the Interfaculty Competition Basseter College won 56-0.

The team, which was under the leadership of Mr. J.H. Hawtin, was able to get a clean sweep in all matches.

The team consisted of the following members:
- Mr. J.H. Hawtin (captain)
- Mr. D.E. Hawtin
- Mr. M.L. Hawtin
- Mr. A.E. Hawtin
- Mr. W.J. Hall
- Mr. W.J. Hawtin
- Mr. M.B. Hawtin
- Mr. A.J. Hawtin
- Mr. E.M. Hall

The team was well received by the University of Sydney Athletics Club and was given a warm welcome.

The team performed well in all events and was able to win several medals.

The team was under the leadership of Mr. J.H. Hawtin, who is a former member of the University of Sydney Fencing Club.

The team is open to all students and is an excellent way to get involved in a club and make new friends.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS TAKE NOTE!
SUPPORT YOUR SOCIETY ON FOUNDATION DAY
(1) Talk about it now and attend meetings.
(2) Don't be without your car for the day.
(3) STAMP OUT APATHY
Purge In The Bridge Club

It is not a popular theme for discussion in student circles, due partly to lack of money, partly to the hangover of school exams which has set in lately and industry. Any gambling element in our clubs is deplored for upsetting the social equilibrium of contented ones. Yes, it seeks the best.

The serious points of social relations which can be found broad education in the humanities is to strengthen our childish divisions and taboos (by pointing out).

(a) The typical gambler is not a person of the average type of the average person, or practically the average type. He is a child who removes from the society as riding in a leg function to a line dancing. The point is that he's useless. His I.Q. is very low, and implies a lack of interest in the more serious things in life. He is oftenfortune ridden, with no real aim in life, and he's not a good company to have around the club. He's a menace to society and a disgrace to his race.

(b) Sooner or later the gambler will be punished. His name is passed around and the club will not tolerate his presence.

(c) The gambling club is a dangerous place for a person to be in. He is not only a menace to his own health and happiness, but he is also a menace to the rest of the club.

The Bridge Club

The Bridge Club is a well established club in the university which has a good reputation. It is open to all students and has a wide variety of activities. The club is located on the second floor of the old building and is open from 8:00 PM to 10:00 PM every evening.

The club has a membership of about 100 students and is run by a committee of four members. The members of the committee are elected by the members of the club and the committee is responsible for the running of the club.

The club has a large variety of activities, including bridge games, card games, and social gatherings. These activities are open to all students and are held in the club room.

The club is also responsible for organizing events such as bridge tournaments and bridge clinics. These events are open to all students and are held on a regular basis.

The club is a great place to meet new people and to have a good time. It is a good place to relax and to have a good time. It is a great place to learn new skills and to improve existing ones. It is a great place to socialize and to have a good time.

The club is open to all students and is a great place to meet new people and to have a good time. It is a great place to relax and to have a good time. It is a great place to learn new skills and to improve existing ones. It is a great place to socialize and to have a good time.

The Bridge Club is a great place to meet new people and to have a good time. It is a great place to relax and to have a good time. It is a great place to learn new skills and to improve existing ones. It is a great place to socialize and to have a good time.

The Bridge Club is a great place to meet new people and to have a good time. It is a great place to relax and to have a good time. It is a great place to learn new skills and to improve existing ones. It is a great place to socialize and to have a good time.

The Bridge Club is a great place to meet new people and to have a good time. It is a great place to relax and to have a good time. It is a great place to learn new skills and to improve existing ones. It is a great place to socialize and to have a good time.
and a defence of the policy

Mr Samuel puts a reasonable and well-substantiated case that the major change in Australia's immigration policy was a justifiable one. He may be criticized for sometimes arguing too strongly for his case, and for his lack of explicit support for some of the decisions that appear to have been made in haste or under pressure. However, his arguments are clear and convincing, and his conclusions well-supported by evidence and analysis.

Mr Samuel makes the point that the policy change was necessary in order to achieve a more balanced and equitable immigration system. He argues that the previous policy was not sustainable in light of changing social and economic conditions, and that it was necessary to develop a new approach that was more responsive to the needs of the country.

Mr Samuel's argument is based on a careful analysis of the historical context and the current situation. He points out that the previous policy was based on a narrow understanding of the country's economic needs, and that it failed to take into account the broader social and cultural implications of immigration.

Mr Samuel also notes that the previous policy was not effective in achieving its stated goals. He argues that the policy change was necessary in order to ensure that the country's immigration system was sustainable and that it would meet the needs of the country in the long term.

Mr Samuel's arguments are well-supported by evidence and analysis, and his conclusions are well-argued. His book is a valuable contribution to the debate on immigration policy and is a must-read for anyone interested in the subject.

—N. B. Nairn

Thurstonia, Thursday, June 21, 1962

The following articles, a criticism and justification of the "White Australia Policy," are reprinted by courtesy of the "Melbourne Star," a Melbourne newspaper.

Peter Samuel is a student at Melbourne University.

N. B. Nairn is Associate Professor of History at the University of New South Wales.

The White Australia Policy is a policy of exclusion that is no more than a set of legal restrictions on immigration. The policy is based on the premise that immigrants from non-European countries should not be allowed to enter Australia. The policy was established in 1901 and was in effect until 1962.

The policy was justified on the grounds that it was necessary to maintain the purity of the White Australian race. It was also argued that the policy was necessary to protect the Australian economy from the competition of cheap labour.

The policy was a significant part of the country's immigration history. It was a reflection of the country's racism and xenophobia, and it had a profound impact on the lives of many people.

The policy was eventually abolished in 1962, in part because of international pressure and in part because of a growing recognition of the need for a more open immigration policy.

The policy was a significant part of the country's immigration history. It was a reflection of the country's racism and xenophobia, and it had a profound impact on the lives of many people.

The policy was eventually abolished in 1962, in part because of international pressure and in part because of a growing recognition of the need for a more open immigration policy.